Story:

We were on the hunt for a creatively-designed modern desk that cost less than $1000, but all we could find were just tables paired with small filing cabinets. Thus we created the Paul Desk, which integrates both small and large storage units on top of the work area at arms length. We also added something every desk should have these days: table-top cutouts for your many and varied wires.

While the Paul Desk disassembles to ship, you'll find it quite simple to put together (no allen wrench required!). All you have to do attach the legs and secure the boxes with the hardware and tools that we provide with each order's packaging.
